

Grupo Antolin´s Dual Trade School expands its training program

Burgos, November 7, 2017- Grupo Antolin, one of the world's largest manufacturers of automobile interiors, continues to expand the Dual Trade Program. Grupo Antolin's Dual Trade School in Burgos has started a new training edition with the professional certificate "Operations of Thermoplastic Polymer Transformation". The 11 young people selected will be trained for one year to work as production specialist operators in Grupo Antolin.

In total, they will receive 440 hours of theoretical and practical training at the Dual Trade School. The rest of the time they will learn with the workers the day to day of a production plant until completing their preparation.

This is the second group that will begin its preparation after the Dual Trade School in Burgos was inaugurated in May of this year with an investment of 2.5 million Euros. The first group, who have been trained to become plastic injection technicians, finished on 11th October their first year of training. Now, they are going to collaborate as injection technicians trainees in some factories, until they restart again their training time next year in May.

It is one of the first training center in the Spanish industry with the goal of becoming a reference in technology training for the Grupo Antolin. Apart from being a place where we create qualified workers it is also a place for research and innovation. Grupo Antolin has another center in Straubing (Germany).

This initiative can be framed within the Human Resources and Innovation Policy of Grupo Antolin, with a strong commitment to talent, and including several initiatives and programs related to professional development and innovation. Attracting, developing and retaining the talent of the more than 26,000 employees of Grupo Antolin is a priority objective resulting from the belief that leadership is based on the value that each employee contributes to the company.
