Grupo Antolín appoints Ramón Sotomayor as new CEO

Grupo Antolín-Irausa, S.A. announces today that Ramón Sotomayor has been named as Chief Executive Officer of the Company. Ramón Sotomayor has been part of our Advisory Board for the last four years, and has a detailed knowledge of the company and the challenging situation of the industry. He previously held executive positions of maximum responsibility in industrial companies including CEO for Southern Europe, Africa, and the Middle East of the ThyssenKrupp Group-, and has been part of different boards of directors of multinational companies.

Ramón Sotomayor replaces Jesús Pascual, whom the Board of Directors sincerely thanks for his valuable work during his more than thirty years at the company, especially in the last ones where he consolidated Antolín as one of the largest manufacturers of vehicle interior components in the world. Jesús, who has been an example of commitment to the company, will leave his executive functions but will continue with Grupo Antolín as an advisor. He will help in the transition and will continue to provide us with his talent.
